Natalia Sanchez

I would love to be given the opportunity to be elected as head girl. Stringer has been a big part of my life for the past few years and as clichéd as it sounds, the experiences that I have had so far, have really helped to start shape me into the kind of person I want to be; and I don't just want to feel like I'm taking without giving back. I want to be a voice for those who feel like they don't have one. For the ones who don't always feel cool, or the ones who feel different and for the underdogs who are just waiting for someone to give them a chance, because I've been there and I've felt all those things, more so than I would have liked. And I want to feel like giving the opportunity for people like me to speak out without feeling judged. I want to show that even if you may not be the smartest, the funniest or even the most confident, if you're willing to work hard for something and put 110% into what you do nothing is unreachable. And I think it would be amazing and I would be truly chuffed if you consider me for head girl, thank you very much.
